ON ALL FOURS

On All Fours is a half-hour edgy comedy that takes a look at the over-the-top relationship between people and their dogs and cats.

Inspired by the best-selling books DOGTOLOGY & CATAKISM, we take a religious look at the insane lengths we go to as we practically worship our beloved pets.

OUR APPROACH...

Every episode is split into two parts, one about our relationship with dogs and one about our relationship with cats. Each has a narrator (quirky, dry humor) that pokes fun at the dogma (no pun intended) of both books, and that each episode reflects a lesson, errr tail, (see how I did that), or known truth about our obsession for dogs and cats.

JON LOVITZ
NARRATOR

CAT PEOPLE ARE CRAZY AND WEIRD

DOG PEOPLE ARE OBSESSED AND MADLY IN LOVE

This will ring true with a breath of reality, honesty, and a hint of “Oh yeah, I’ve done crazy shit like that before!”

CASTING OPPORTUNITIES

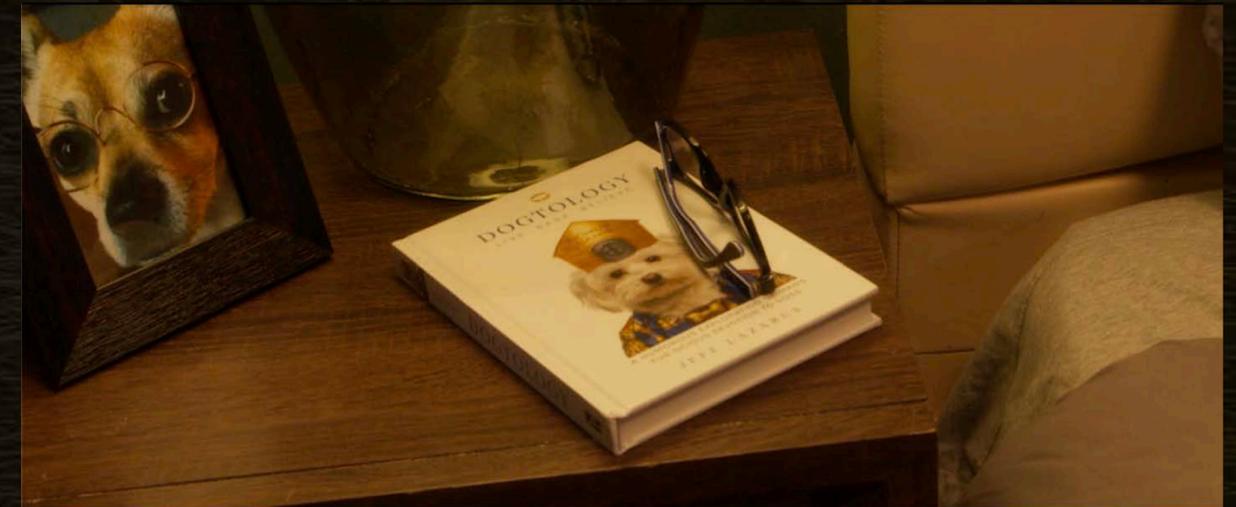

Revolving cast. Repeating and rotating characters (i.e. groomers, dog "owners", dogs/cats) will be possible. Guest appearances and cameos by celebrities and influencers.

THE WORLD

Season one introduces an array of characters who are obsessed with the dogs or cats, and some that don't like them at all (shame on them!). The level of worship from pet owners is the stuff of legend. The religions of Dogtology and Catakism are introduced during the season and create a basis of humor for seasons to come.

We explore the relationships between dogs and cats and their owners and how it affects the lives of the people around them. I know it sounds serious, but it's not. It is. But it's not.

THE TONE

Funny. Twisted. Edgy. Silly. Irreverent. The stories all come from real-life experiences but with a dark and funny twist, one that reflects the nature of Dogtology and Catakism.

In the vein of WORK IN PROGRESS, we explore the absurd lengths people go to humanize their animals. The themes of each episode reflect concepts and themes from the book, and in our twisted way, people with pets and even people without pets, can relate. Absurd and silly behavior reminiscent of CURB YOUR ENTHUSIASM is the feel of the show as well.

POINT IN CASE: THE FIRST PAGE OF CATAKISM...

“WE, THE CRAZY CAT PEOPLE, DO SOLEMNLY
SWEAR TO PRAISE AND PAMPER ALL BURRING BEINGS.

WE PLEDGE TO HOLD THEE, CAT, IN HIGHER REGARD THAN JOBS, PROPERTY, AND SANITY?”

AND SAME GOES FOR DOGTOLOGY...

“WE, THE DEDICATED, (I.E., RABID) DOG PEOPLE, DO HEREBY PROMISE TO MAKE THEE, DOG, THE OBJECT OF OUR FANATICAL DEVOTION...

AND TO PRAISE YOU 24/7 WITH UNREASONABLY HIGH PITCHED VOICES.”

YOU GET IT.

WE'RE RELIGIOUS ABOUT OUR PETS.

We worship them, place them on an altar and treat them as Deity. We're fucking nuts is this the point, and the show will point that out in a comical, dark yet informing way.

PROPOSED EPISODES

BARK MITZVAH

Benji Shapiro is turning 3 years old and his parents are planning a Bark Mitzvah for him. There is quite a lot of fuss being made over who will be invited, who the caterer will be, where Benji will be registered at and getting the invitations out on time. Benji's been preparing for this day with weekly visits to the Rabbi's house and lots of exercise so he can fit into his custom made tallas. Benji is a Dachshund. Oh yeah, the country club's beloved Skippy Cohen's Bark Mitzvah invitations were sent out a week after Benji's...and it's on the same day!! The members have to cancel Benji to attend Skippy's. Of course, something happens to ruin Skippy Cohen's Bark Mitzvah and guests are scrambling to get over to Benji's before the Challah is blessed.

CATAHOLICS ANONYMOUS

We get a sneak preview into the lives of 8 catticts and their struggle to get to their first Cataholics Anonymous meeting. Their obsession for their cats, and cats in general, has been having detrimental effects on the lives of those around them. The catticts are not convinced they need to attend such a meeting but are urged to do so by the significant people in their lives (i.e. spouses, friends, children, co-workers). The attendees each receive an email with the rules of the road for the meeting and the policies that they must abide by.. The rules memo puts the catticts into an even greater state of anxiety. With a true act of bravery, the catticts make it to the meeting...only to melt-down, self-implode and suffer physically from the separation between themselves and their cats...and cats in general. EMT's, doctors, families and police are called in to help during this dramatic and troubling display of human suffering and agony.

EHYDRANTS

Todd (from the pilot episode), fresh off of his relationship disaster with Maddy, decides it's time to find someone who loves their dog as much as he does his. Todd signs up for the popular dating site, eHydrants.com and sets up a profile featuring pictures of Barry and of himself. This site is a goldmine! Todd meets a number of women who have dogs and love them to no end. And that's the problem...to no end. Todd meets a smoking hot dog-lover, Heather, who loves her dog, Precious. Heather REALLY loves her dog, Precious. Todd and Barry are in over their heads in a chaotic battle for equality and together decide it's time to go for a walk...a long walk.

THE SHARING OF THE BED

The Sharing of the bed: A working professional, Carl, loves his new four-legged fur ball rescue, Larry. Carl is not adjusting well to the sleeping situation. Carl is left clinging to the side of the bed every night as Larry favors sleeping up next to him. A variety of challenges are presented to Carl during the night, whenever he moves, goes to the bathroom, or wants the covers. He tries various tactics to resolve the situation but the lack of sleep is taking a toll on his work and personal life. The clear winner of the CEO of the bed is...Larry by TKO!!

POOPGATE

Dr. Desmond and Charlene Wildemore have been married for 12 years and have 2 human children and a chihuahua named Gibbs. Dr. Desmond has been performing a number of late night "surgeries" that Charlene is becoming suspicious of. After some investigating, Charlene has found evidence to support her claims. Desmond comes home to find a note on the fridge and eventually a surprise specimen on his pillow. Charlene blames Gibbs. Being an esteemed surgeon and strong belief in Gibbs' innocence, Desmond sends the specimen of question to the lab for analysis. The results of the analysis are entered into the court, "as evidence" during the Wildemore v. Wildemore divorce proceedings.

DESIGNER DOG

A Wardrobe for Daisy is the #1 priority and clearly the reason for living! A couple who are working hard just to make ends meet, have just the cutest most precious fur- baby named Lucy. The wife is spending all available funds on clothing, bling and over-the-top toys for Lucy, to the dismay of the husband. Lucy is entered into fashion shows and routinely entertains an online following. Due to the continuous expenditures, they fall behind on their bills and even face eviction. The turmoil is so bad that the husband takes on a second job and Lucy starts selling drugs and turns to prostitution to support the habit to support the habit.

A SHOW OF SOLIDARITY

A loner of a man (50-something) is convinced his cat is a lesbian due to some strange activities that he believes he has been witnessing. In a show of support for his cat, he joins the Rainbow movement/LGBTQ+ community. After a series of absurdities and offensive behavior displayed at meetings and demonstrations, the man is exiled from the community...with extreme prejudice. After feeling dejected from being discriminated against, he finds that his cat is not really a lesbian, just merely bisexual.

PUSSY GONE VIRAL

A professional woman (30's/40's) awakens to a number of messages complaining about the offensive emails that she sent out during the night. She is bewildered as she did no such thing. Personal and professional fallout happens as a result. On a subsequent occasion, she is mortified when her cat runs across her computer to only turn on her camera as she is disheveled and in her bra and panties. Emails are being deleted, activities in the home are being recorded and YouTube videos are spontaneously heard during the night. Is it a ghost? Who ordered the random items on Amazon Prime!?

SUZANNE DELAURENTIIS

Raised in southern New Jersey, Suzanne DeLaurentiis was a singer, dancer and actress from an early age. She worked on and off Broadway, and studied Opera at Carnegie Hall with the famous Carlo Menotti. She established a successful singing career in her teens, following in the footsteps of her cousin and mentor, 50's superstar, Frankie Avalon.

In her early 20's, Suzanne opened her own production company, writing, producing and directing feature films and television. Throughout her 40-plus years as a filmmaker, Suzanne has been involved with over one hundred productions, and has been honored with many prestigious awards.

In 2002, the Marco Island Film Festival honored Ms. DeLaurentiis with their esteemed Terry Scarlett Award for Filmmaking, in 2003 the Palm Beach International Film Festival presented her with The Distinguished Founders Award for Excellence in Filmmaking, in 2007, Suzanne received the prestigious Opal Award from Women in Film and in 2008, The Hollywood Fame Awards honored her for her lifetime achievement for music in independent films.

In addition to her numerous awards and productions, Ms. DeLaurentiis has also taken part in historical litigation in cases relating to both union issues and distribution. She has fought successfully, protecting the rights of independent filmmakers.

In 2006, Suzanne DeLaurentiis Productions independently produced the award winning, 10th & Wolf, a multi-million dollar, award winning mafia drama. She will be an executive producer on the Feature film RIZZO written by Stephen Rivele starring Vince Vaughn.

Suzanne is currently in pre-production for two, true-life, epic feature films, Triangle and The Spear of Destiny, both written by Oscar nominated Screenwriter, Stephen Rivele.

Some of her other independent film titles include A Month of Sundays, Middleton Christmas, Reeds Point, They Crawl Beneath, Wedding Day, Shut Up and Kiss Me, Lost Revolution, The Dark Tourist, Black Gold, Area 407, Stone Markers, How Sweet It Is, and Buried Lies.

Her television credits also include Pet Doctors of Atlanta, Soul Fire Rising, and Stone Markers, Suzanne's Saturday Night Scares and Very Frightening Tales. Suzanne is currently in pre production for a television series entitled, The Save, and comedy series, On All Fours and a historical Wilderness Road.

Suzanne devotes much of her spare time to veteran charities raising money and awareness. In 2010, Suzanne received a Commendation Metal from the United States military in recognition of her services to veterans.

JEFF LAZARUS

Jeff Lazarus is an author and creator as well as health care professional based in Orange County, California. He is the author of CATAKSIMM, DOGTOLOGY, and LISTEN LIKE A DOG. From his own journey, Jeff has been able to help new authors create their own personal brand, navigate their way through the journey of writing a book and how to effectively and successfully become published. Jeff's expertise includes customer engagement and all things communication, including presentation, facilitation, listening and debate. Jeff was inducted into the Merck & Co. Hall of Fame and successfully launched marketing campaigns, scientific platforms and branding guidelines.

Throughout his life, Jeff has always been a writer. He wrote songs while in a rock band while in high school and had two short stories published in student journals while attending Cal State University, Long Beach. As an avid hockey fan, he's never short on words on social media hockey fan pages and blogs. In 2015, Jeff's first flash of inspiration for book writing went public as he released DOGTOLOGY, a whimsical exploration of humankind's obsession and devotion to dogs. It became an Amazon #1 Best-Seller, racking up a 4.7 average rating from 124 reviews. DOGTOLOGY eventually was picked up by Skyhorse Publishing, along with the companion book, CATAKISM, which were both released on November 7, 2017. CATAKISM was an instant #1 new release on Amazon. In 2016 Jeff took his passion for listening so seriously, he penned LISTEN LIKE A DOG... and Make Your Mark on the World, which has since been published in multiple languages.

And now, alongside Suzanne DeLaurentiis, Jeff is the Creator and producer of the all-new show, inspired from his best-selling books, ON ALL FOURS.

DALE FABRIGAR

DALE FABRIGAR has long been using his imagination and visual sensibilities to solve creative challenges over his evolving career.

Born and raised in Los Angeles, Dale graduated from Art Center College of Design in Pasadena CA. Dale's formal training in art and design eventually helped pave the way for him as a visual storyteller.

As a director, Dale has produced and directed numerous, award-winning films as well as a variety of music videos, industrial films and live theater productions in Los Angeles. In 2007, Dale was selected as a semi-finalist filmmaker for the Steven Spielberg/Mark Burnett Show, "On The Lot."

Dale's latest indie-feature, LONELY BOY, World Premiered at the CINEQUEST Film Festival (2013) and continues its circuit tour across the nation garnering BEST FILM accolades at notable International Film Festivals.

Regardless of genre - drama, action or comedy - Dale strives to entertain by telling uncompromising stories about the power, strength and the often flawed character of the human spirit.

Dale currently resides in LA working as a freelance director and is developing a number of film and tv projects.
